R. W. Howard, Dynamic U. S. Journalist Dies

NEW YORK (AP) — Roy W. Howard, 81, a dynamc giant of American journalism for more than half a century, died Friday night of a heart attack.

He was chairman of the executive committee of Scripps-Howard newspapers, which he had helped build into a major newspaper group. He was the first managing editor, and later president, of United Press, the news service that is now United Press International.

Howard was stricken at his Park Avenue office. He died several hours later at Doctors Hospital.

Noted For Tart Talk

He was an energetic man, full of sardonic wit and tart talk. "Never take yourself too seriously," was a rule he said he took early in life.

He joined the organization in 1905 when he went to work for the Cincinnati Post. Seven years later, at 29, he was directing head of United Press, which the late E. W. Scripps had established.

He was president of Scripps-Howard until his resignation in 1953. In 1960 he resigned as editor of the flagship of the group, the New York World-Telegram and the Sun. He continued as a director of the group's operating company.

Howard was born on New Year's Day in Gano, Ohio, near Cincinnati. His first job in newspaper work was as a carrier boy. Characteristically, he took on two routes, one morning paper and one evening paper.

Started At $8

While at high school he covered school news for the Indianapolis News. After graduation he went to work for the News as an $8-a-week reporter.

He moved to the Indianapolis Star as sports editor and tried in vain to get jobs in Chicago or New York. Later, he liked to say that the only way he could get a job on the old New York World was to buy it.

After a stint on the St. Louis Post-Dispatch, he went to the Cincinnati Post. He talked himself into a job as New York correspondent of the old Scripps-McRae group, of which the Post was a member.

Scripps, recalling an early meeting with Howard, described him in these words:

"His manner was forceful and the reverse of modest. Gall was written all over his face. It was in every tone and every word he voiced. He had ambition, self-respect and forcefulness."

In 1921 Scripps appointed Howard business director of the newspaper group. The next year, after rapid expansion, the group became known as Scripps-Howard. Howard was chairman of the board.

Armistice Story Recalled

But Howard refused to be tied down to an executive's desk.

He traveled around the world, interviewing the leaders of nations. He won an interview with the reticent Josef Stalin in 1936 and made it available to the other American news agencies.

During World War I Howard was a war correspondent and became the center of what he called "one of the most amazing journalistic contretemps in history."

It was the premature armistice report of Nov. 7, 1918, which sent Americans dancing in the streets four days before the actual armistice.

He had received the informa-

Plug Up Holes In Iron Curtain, Is Peking Edict

Red China has delivered its ultimatum to the Soviet Union: plug up the holes in the Iron Curtain or the Communist movement will be irrevocably divided into two camps.

No other construction can be placed upon a 3,000-word statement from the theoretical journal Red Flag broadcast by Peking today. As matters stand now, it means the Soviet-Chinese dispute not only will continue, but probably will grow more intense.

Purge Demanded

Peking, in breaking a sullen silence on its reception of the new regime in the Soviet Union, probably has thrown a scare into the Communists of both Eastern and Western Europe.

Almost openly, Red Flag was asking for a continuing and thorough going purge in the U.S.S.R. to weed out all those Communists who supported Nikita Khrushchev's policies, and to return to Stalinism. This would be bad news for the Communist-ruled countries of Eastern Europe, and equally bad news for West European Reds for whom Stalinism had proved a heavy liability.

The Chinese statement was a recitation of Peking's terms for playing ball with Moscow within a unified world Communist movement, but the terms are just about as tough as they can be. Indeed, if the Chinese conditions were met, the present regime of party chief Leonid Brezhnev and premier Alexei Kosygin in the U.S.S.R. could not last long.

Peking heavily assailed virtually all the domestic, Communist party and foreign policies developed in the Khrushchev era.

In almost so many words, Peking demanded that Moscow reassess and reinstate Stalinism. It demanded an end to cooperation between the Soviet Union and the United States and virtually demanded abrogation of the Moscow treaty partially banning nuclear tests. It demanded that the Russian once again anathematize President Tito of Yugoslavia and toss him out of the Communist family. It demanded that policy of the Soviet 22nd Party Congress dealing with consumer goods development and the theoretical course of Soviet Communism be scrappde as hopelessly "revisionist."

Can't Meet Terms

And it demanded a purge in the U.S.S.R. This was implicit in its warning that there must be no "Khrushchevism without Khrushchev."

The Soviet Union, as matters stand now, can meet none of these terms. Meeting all of them is utterly out of the question. Even if there should be a successful new palace revolution in the Kremlin by an alliance of Stalinists and military men, it could hardly hope to go the past decade of Soviet social back all the way to Stalin after development.

Americans Hold Memorials For Slain President

WASHINGTON (AP) — In churches and synagogues and by the light of the eternal flame that burns at his grave, Americans will pay tribute Sunday to President John F. Kennedy on the first anniversary of his assassination.

In Boston, in Dallas, across the sea in Rome, prayers and memorial ceremonies will recall for the nation and the world the grief of the day when Lee Harvey Oswald gunned down the 46-year-old president as he rode by motorcade through cheering crowds of Texans.

President Johnson, elevated to his office by Kennedy's death and confirmed in it by a landslide vote 18 days ago, will attend an interdenominational memorial service at the University Methodist Church in Austin, Tex., tomorrow afternoon.

In Washington, a Solemn Mass will be said in St. Matthews Cathedral, where statesmen and emperors gathered last Nov. 25 for Kennedy's funeral.

In Boston, Richard Cardinal Cushing, Kennedy's close friend who presided at both his wedding and funeral, will offer a commemorative Mass in the Cathedral of the Holy Cross for the nation's first Roman Catholic president.

The Mass in Washington will be said by Fr. John J. Cavanaugh, former president of the University of Notre Dame and a long-time friend of the Kennedy family. Sen.-Elect Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y., the late president's brother, will be among those in attendance.

In Rome, two religious ceremonies are scheduled — a Mass in Santa Susannah Roman Catholic Church and a special remembrance service at St. Paul's Protestant Episcopal Church.

The Jewish Theological Seminary plans to present "A Tribute to John Fitzgerald Kennedy" on its "Eternal Light" radio program on NBC Sunday at 12:30 p.m. EST.

Supreme Court Justice Arthur J. Goldberg, named to the high tribunal by Kennedy, will speak at two memorial services here — in the morning at Temple Sinai and in the afternoon at Beth Sholom Congregation.

In Dallas, Mayor Erik Johnson asked clergymen to remember the late president in their sermons. But he said it would be inappropriate to hold a public memorial ceremony because the anniversary falls on the Sabbath.

Rocket Test Set For Wednesday Gale Scatters

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) —The Air Force has rescheduled an orbital test flight of the Titan 3A military rocket for next Wednesday.

It was postponed Friday because of problems with a radio telemetry system in the rocket.

Stove Gas Kills Sergeant, Wife, And 5 Children

SUNDANCE, Wyo. (AP) — A faulty vent in a butane stove seeped carbon monoxide gas through the small home where an Air Force sergeant, his wife and five children slept.

That was sometime Wednesday night or early Thursday morning.

Anxious airmen trying to discover why M. Sgt. Russell Schlotterbeck was missing from duty forced their way in the house Friday and found seven bodies.

Dead were Schlotterbeck, 28, his wife Elvira, 32, and their children Diane, 4, Michael, 3, John, 2, and 8-month-old twin girls, Gloria Linda and Mary Louise.

Jailed U. S. Jet Pilot Escapes Laos Stockade

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — A Navy jet pilot held captive almost three months by Laotian Reds says he escaped with three Laotian prisoners by breaking out of a barbed-wire stockade.

Lt. Cmdr. Charles Klusmann, 30, says he was in solitary confinement nearly two months and after his escape spent three days in leech-infested jungles before reaching friendly forces.

From the outset, he says, he was determined to escape or die trying.

The Communists said Klusmann signed a statement favorable to their cause but the Navy says his conduct throughout was "entirely satisfactory." It says the document he signed for the Communists stated only that he had been adequately fed and cared for and requested his release.

A Distinguished Flying Cross was given his wife, Sara, 30, in his stead last June.

The story of Klusmann's flight from the Pathet Lao Prison had not been made public until the Navy released a 30-page report Friday.

Since his return Klusmann has been promoted and returned to active duty at nearby Miramar Naval Air Station. He was a lieutenant when he was shot down over Laos June 6.

The Navy's story:

Klusmann was piloting an unarmed photo reconnaissance plane over the Plaine Des Jarres when he was hit by heavy ground fire near Khang Khay and had to eject.

He fell through a tree parachuting to earth and twisted his right hip and foot and scratched his arm. Klusmann tried to escape through the jungle but was captured by Communist troops.

Ford Rushes To Get Back In Production

DETROIT (AP) — The Ford Motor Co. rushed plans today to get back into passenger car production next week after overnight settlement of its Sterling Township parts plant strike.

Ford, with all its assembly lines at a dead halt and more than 80,000 men idle, said it hoped to resume production Tuesday or Wednesday in some factories.

A Ford spokesman said Friday that the Chicago Heights, Ill., stamping plant is expected to resume production Sunday night.

Another week would pass, however, before the company could be geared up to approach its 10,000-cars-per-day potential. Ford officials indicated Nov. 30 would be the earliest date for this.

The local strike at the Sterling Township plant near Detroit which employs 6,300 men, was blamed largely by Ford for extensive layoffs and plant shutdowns since Nov. 6.

The plant, which makes a wide variety of car parts, is described as a chief supplier in Ford's nationwide system.

United Auto Workers Local 228 of the Sterling Township plant will hold a ratification meeting Sunday on the settlement terms.

Italy May Expel More Arabs In Trunk Spy Case

ROME (AP) — More United Arab Republic officials may be expelled from Italy as a result of the man-in-the- trunk spy case, an informed source said today.

Police said Friday night they were searching for two more Egyptians believed implicated in the plot to smuggle an Israeli fugitive out of the country in a trunk marked "Diplomatic Mail." Two U.A.R. diplomats in Rome have already been expelled.

Police rescued the Israeli, Mordecai Ben Masud Louk, from the trunk Tuesday as it was being loaded aboard a Cairo-bound plane.

Belgians Poised To Free 1,000 Whites In Congo

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP) — The Congolese Army moved closer to Stanleyville today while a Belgium paratroop unit was poised off Africa's west coast ready to liberate 1,000 whites held hostage in the rebel capital.

Premier Moise Tshombe's government, meanwhile, rapped the United States and Belgium for attempting to negotiate with the rebels without its consent.

It also warned Belgium that a unilateral decision to send troops into the troubled country would be aggression but expressed willingness to study a proposal for such an action.

Tough Combat Men

Belgium announced Friday that a battalion of about 500 tough combat men were at British-held Ascension Island prepared to intervene if needed. A foreign ministry spokesman said U.S. Air Force transport planes flew the paratroopers to the South Atlantic island.

The red-bereted soldiers include seasoned officers who fought in World War II and in the Korean Conflict.

At United Nations Headquarters in New York, U.N. Secretary- General U Thant called for possible U.N. Security Council action to head off a crisis. He did not, however, recommend a specific session.

An estimated 2,000 Congolese moved north from the tin mining town of Punia toward Stanleyville in a drive that reportedly encountered little resistance. Informed sources said the army, led by white mercenaries, easily captured Punia, 180 miles from Stanleyville.

The Congolese army's commander, Gen. Joseph Mobutu, has promised to take Stanleyville by next week. The offensive began Thursday at Kindu, 250 air miles from the rebel stronghold.

Meanwhile, both the United States and Belgium awaited a reply from rebel leader Christophe Gbenye on their efforts to set up negotiations for release of the hostages. The Congolese government has broadcast an appeal to the Communist-backed insurgents to surrender.

About 60 Americans, including Dr. Paul Carlson, 36, of Rolling Hills, Calif., are being held in Stanleyville. Carlson, a medical missionary, is under death sentence for alleged spying but his execution was postponed until Monday pending negotiations.

Gbenye has warned that if the Americans provoke an attack, the rebels will execute Carlson. The U.S. government has denied Carlson is a spy.

The U.S. ambassador at Leopoldville, G. McMurtrie Godley offered to send a U.S. representative to set up talks with the rebels. Foreign Minister Paul-Henri Spaak of Belgium urged Gbenye to accept an International Red Cross mission to evacuate the foreigners.

President Adds Highway Beauty To His Program

JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (AP) — President Johnson has made final decisions on two more 1965 programs: to try to beautify American highways and, by 1969, to radically improve methods of purifying salt water.

These ambitious plans, a part of the "Great Society" proposals Johnson will submit to Congress next year, were revealed Friday by Secretary of the Interior Stewart L. Udall after a day-long visit at the LBJ Ranch 15 miles west of here.

Udall, who flew back to Washington Friday night, was succeeded in the parade of Cabinet visitors by Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman.

New Items Revealed

The interior chief, despite a sniffly nose, seemed pleased with his first visit to the chief executive's 400-acre ranch. Asked by newsmen if he expected to remain in the Cabinet, he responded: "Yes, I do. And after my visit today I'll stay with a real sense of excitement."

After his ranch stay Udall unveiled at White House press headquarters in Austin, 65 miles from the ranch, a series of what he termed "hard news" items:

1. Johnson told him to seek a $16-million supplemental appropriation in January for research on desalting and purifying sea and brackish waters, with the aim of bringing costs down to 25 or 35 cents per 1,000 gallons by the end of the President's four-year term in 1969.

The current annual appropriation is $12 million, and the present cost through experimental desalting plants is $1 per 1,000 gallons.

2. The administration will recommend as part of its "Great Society" program a plan to beautify and landscape more than 40,000 miles of federal subsidized interstate highways. Without disclosing details, Udall predicted this will be "very exciting."

More Park Lands

3. Johnson has ordered Udall and Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara to make an inventory of the 24 million acres owned by the Defense Department to determine which properties, if eventually declared surplus, should be made a part of a national conservation program as federal seashores, recreation areas, national parks or wildlife refuges.

Udall noted that just this week McNamara had announced plans to shut down bases involving 375,000 acres. He said this land is part of "the national estate" and should not be auctioned off to private interests without thought to potential national use.

He said he knew from personal experience that some of the bases to be closed could be conserved as parks, seashores and wildlife sanctuaries.

McNamara has argued that the closing of the bases will benefit local communities by placing the land on local tax rolls, something that wouldn't happen if they were made part of the conservation program.

Slick Highways Cause 2 Deaths In Detroit Area

By The Associated Press

Michigan's snow-glazed highways have claimed at least two lives in weekend traffic mishaps.

The Associated Press tabulation of weekend traffic deaths began at 6 p.m. Friday and ends at midnight Sunday.

Stanley Carson, 27, of Detroit, was killed today when his car slammed into the rear of a truck spreading salt to melt icing snow on Detroit's Schoolcraft Ave.

Timothy W. Guenther, 17, of Birmingham, was injured fatally Friday night when his car swerved out of control on Maple Road in Bloomfield Township and collided head-on with another automobile.

Rusk To Meet With Gromyko In New York

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Sovet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko may meet in New York in about 10 days for the first high-level talks on U.S.-Soviet relations since new leaders took power in Moscow last month.

Soviet diplomats here say Gromyko presumably will attend opening sessions of the U.N. General Assembly, as he has in past years.

Rusk plans to go to New York Nov. 29, primarily to hold talks with foreign ministers present at the assembly meetings. The General Assembly will open Dec. 1.

Clash Expected

A sharp U.S.-Soviet clash is in prospect over Russia's refusal to pay assessments levied for U.N. peace-keeping operations. Under U.N. Charter provisions, the Soviet Union stands to lose its assembly vote because its debts are more than two years old.

The United States is insisting that the charter requirement be strictly enforced, and a bitter fight over this issue could cloud U.S.-Soviet relations.

Apart from the payments dispute, there have been signs from both Moscow and Washington of some desire to improve relations and further ease East-West tensions, perhaps by concluding some new agreement in the disarmament field or on new matters of practical cooperation.

Water Pact Signed

Within the week the United States and the Soviet Union signed in Moscow an agreement to cooperate in research on the desalinization of sea water. On that occasion Gromyko told U.S. Ambassador Foy D. Kohler that the Soviet Union would do its utmost to solve existing problems between the two countries.

Kohler, who had a private talk with the Soviet foreign minister a few days ago, returned to Washington Friday and began consultations with State Department officials on the whole range of U.S.-Soviet relations.

Presumably he reported in detail on his impressions of the new Kremlin leadership and its intentions for the future, both in respect to the West and the current Moscow efforts to patch up the Red Chinese-Soviet quarrel.

Another outward indication of a Moscow desire to improve relations and probably move toward increased trade with the United States was the meeting this week between Premier Alexei Kosygin and a group of U.S. businessmen visiting the Soviet Union.

Will Pay On Debt

Kosygin indicated the Soviet government may make a payment on its long-standing lend-lease debt to the United States.

When negotiations on the issue were broken off years ago, the United States was asking for $800 million as a final settlement. The Soviet Union limited its maximum offer to $300 million. The unresolved problem has been considered a barrier to trade relations.

If the conferences between Rusk and Gromyko work out, Rusk is expected to stress U.S. concern for new agreements in the field of disarmament to follow the limited nuclear test-ban treaty concluded by the United States, Britain and the Soviet Union in 1963.

President Johnson emphasized during the election campaign that "our guard is up but our hand is out." He exchanged cordial messages with Kosygin after the ouster of Nikita Khrushchev as Soviet Premier and made clear he would be willing under suitable circumstances to meet with the Soviet leaders should it appear summit-level talks would contribute to world peace.

Deer Kill Above 1963 As Season Enters 2nd Week

The 1964 deer hunting season entered its second week in the Upper Peninsula today with a sharp increase in the deer count at the Mackinac Bridge, another heart attack fatality and an intensive search for a lost hunter in Houghton County.

The heart attack victim was 48-year-old Walfred Latvala of Munising, who was stricken Friday while hunting in Alger County.

He was the 10th hunter to die of a heart attack in the Upper Peninsula this year. One hunter has died from gun shot wounds and eight more have been injured.

Latest non-fatal gun shot victim was Harold D. Reed, 66, of Augusta, who was shot in the side yesterday by a companion's bullet.

Reed was reported in satisfactory condition today at St. Mary's Hospital in Marquette. He had been hunting with Harold W. Larison, 55, of Battle Creek near the Marquette-Dickinson County line when a shot from Larison's rifle emerged from a deer and struck him.

State Police, Houghton County sheriff's officers and conservation men launched an intensive search today for Robert Fisher, 33, of Grand Rapids who has been missing since 10 a.m. yesterday.

The 14th hunter reported lost in the U.P. this season Fisher has not been seen since, he left his camp near Doncken yesterday morning. Efforts to locate him before dark last night failed.

Snowfall General

Temperatures in the area plunged to 4 degrees last night. About 10 inches of snow is reported on the ground in Houghton County.

The Mackinac Bridge count jumped to 6,727 at 7 a.m. today after a heavy crossing of 1,998 in Friday's 24-hour counting period. The total is 2,159 greater than that for a comparable period last year and almost double the 1962 total of 3,656.

In addition, 79 bear have been taken across the straits.

Heaviest kills have been reported in the Matchwood area of Ontonagon County, southeastern Gogebic County, north of Canton in Houghton County, in the Baraga plains of Baraga County, central Dickinson and northern Menominee Counties, in the Gwinn, Champion and Republic areas of Marquette County, central Delta County, southwestern Alger County and in the Naubinway area of Mackinac County, according to conservation dept. reports.

Snow conditions are general over the entire Peninsula, except for areas along the Lake Michigan shoreline. Deepest snow — 16 inches — is reported in the Porcupine Mountain area of Ontonagon County.

Swedish Plane Crash Kills 31

ANGELHOLM, Sweden (AP) — A Swedish airliner approaching Barkakra field in rain and low clouds Friday night snagged its nose wheel on a railway power line and crashed in a ball of flame. Authorities said 31 of the 43 passengers and crewmen were killed.

The victims included three members of the Swedish Parliament, Gunnar Weibull, 45, of Landskrona, Gosta Tore Edvin Bengtsson, 53, of Halmstad, and Mrs. Eva Karlsson of Halsingborg.

Authorities said the plane's second officer, a native of Norway, was the only foreigner among those killed in the crash.

The two-engine Convair 440 Metropolitan of Linjeflyg Airline, a subsidiary of the Scandinavian Airlines System, was on a scheduled late evening flight from Stockholm to Angelholm, on Sweden's southwest coast.

The pilot and co-pilot were killed instantly as the nose of the plane was smashed in.

Among the survivors were the plane's two hostesses and a 10-year-old girl.

It was the worst domestic crash in Swedish aviation, officials said. The worst previous accident occurred in September, 1950, when 10 persons died at Karlstad in central Sweden.

Court Weighs Petition On Gas

LANSING (AP) — The Michigan Public Service Commission (MPSC) is asking Ingham County Circuit Court to throw out a petition by Upper Peninsula Fuels Research, Inc., to prevent Michigan Consolidated Gas Co. from serving the Upper Peninsula.

The commission last month approved a Michigan Consolidated request to serve parts of the western Upper Peninsula.

Northern Natural Gas Co. of Omaha, Neb., also is seeking permission from the Federal Power Commission (FPC) to serve the western U.P. — Some of its territory overlapping that eyed by Consolidated.

Both utilities debated their respective proposals before the MPSC and agreed to let Fuels Research, an organization made up primarily of coal and oil suppliers, intervene in the case as an interested party.

Michigan Consolidated now is seeking FPC permission for an interconnector with the Michigan-Wisconsin Pipeline Co. at Menominee. It also needs FPC approval to buy gas from Michigan-Wisconsin, a sister organization.

Fuels Research asked the court to void the state commission's order because it had been denied access to some of the underlying data used in the case. It also contends the commission erred in not suspending the hearing until the FPC ruled on both requests. Hearings are scheduled Jan. 26, said Peter Spivak, chairman of the state commission.

The data involved was supplied voluntarily by the utilities and is of a confidential nature, said commission secretary Norman Berkowitz.

The introduction of natural gas is looked upon by many U.P. residents as the start of a solution to the area's lack of economic development.

Spivak criticized the Fuels Research group for being "interested in keeping out new competition."

Fasting Before Communion Cut Down To Hour

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope Paul VI today reduced the length of fast for Roman Catholics before communion. He announced the change during ceremonies closing the 1964 session of the Vatican Ecumenical Council.

The Pope said that henceforth Catholics need fast from food and drink only one hour before receiving communion.

For centuries the fast began at midnight starting the day when communion would be taken. The fast included water. Pope Piux XII changed that in 1957 to three hours for food and alcoholic drink, one hour for nonalcoholic drink, and no time limit on water.

PAN'S PANIC

Origin of the word "panic" goes back to the time when the god Pan was believed to be the creator of all sudden fear. Loud noises at night were said to be caused by Pan and were called "panics".

Near-Zero Cold Forecast Here

Cloudy, windy and cold through the weekend, with a low of 6 degrees tonight and high of about 20 on Sunday in Escanaba is part of the winter weather picture being painted across the Great Lakes region.

While the Escanaba area again escaped predicted snowfalls last night, heavy snow hit the eastern U.P., clogging back roads and bringing hazardous driviing warnings to motorists on all highways.

The Weather Bureau in Escanaba reported the low last night as 9 above zero after a high of 25 on Friday. It was still only 10 above at 7 a.m. today and there was a strong northwesterly wind. The winds are expected to diminish tonight but there is also the chance of snow or snow flurries this weekend.

While the Friday night storm missed the Escanaba area, it brought deeply drifted snow and howling winds to most sections of Michigan. Wisconsin was also swept by the storm of hurricane proportions in places that clogged roads with snow and sent temperatures tumbling to the near-zero mark.

Winds are expected to remain blustery today, swirling up to 30 miles an hour, before they begin subsidling tonight. New snow also is forecast everywhere, at least in flurries and up to two inches in new falls along Lakes Superior and Michigan.

"Cloudy, windy and cold" is the U.S. Weather Bureau's forecast for the entire state tonight and Sunday. What is more, "little change" is forecast for Monday, except in the southeastern Lower Peninsula, where "not quite so cold" is the outlook.

Wisconsin Land & Lbr. Co. To End Operations

HERMANSVILLE — Active operation of the Wisconsin Land & Lumber Co. as a wood industry ceases here today after 86 years of operation. Its properties are being offered for sale.

The closing ordered by G. Harold Earle, the owner, is a milestone in the history of the community which was started by Charles J. L. Meyer of Fond du Lac, Wis., when he built a sawmill here starting Jan. 10, 1878. It began operation on Feb. 19, 1879.

This big circular saw mill became the No. 1 or "Pine Mill" of the Wisconsin Land & Lumber Co., which later built a second, No. 2 mill, which was known as the Hardwood Mill of the company. The No. 2 mill never burned but the No. 1 mill burned three times.

Both mills are gone now and the Wisconsin Land & Lumber Co. milling operations are in what was the hardwood flooring factory. The company's "IXL" flooring became nationally known and was a pioneer in the trade, even developing its own flooring manuafcturing machines.

Closing Kilns

A modern electric bandsaw mill is in the former hardwood flooring plant, but it has not operated for four years. Space in the big plant has been leased to other firms and the big dry kilns of the plant have been operated.

"Our plans are to discontinue operation as of Nov. 30," said Harold Earle, "and we have notified our customers, tenants and employes.

"For some reason or other, the custom kiln drying and milling business has declined to an unusual degree in the past 60 days as compared with previous years. We suspect that this is a temporary lull, but because of this condition we are going to be all through with the operation by the end of this week.

"While we have already made some progress in putting some idle tools and equipment into storage, we are going to be engaged more or less for the rest of the year in completing the clean-up, taking inventories of odd items left for sale and some items of tools and equipment for which we do not anticipate any future need.

"We will shortly have a listing of odd small lots of lumber, hardwood flooring and other items for sale to clean out our buildings.

Staff Expires

"Death has taken one after another of the experienced men we depended upon to assist with the operation and particularly since the death of Leo Doran, W. J. Eisenzoph and I have found it difficult to conduct the operation efficiently alone. When Bill retires at the end of the year, I will retire also, at least from an operation involving a payroll.

"We believe the service rendered to concerns in the lumber and wood -working industry will be greatly missed and the strategic location and readiness of the facilities here to perform services which are needed will result in our finding some good organization to reactivate the kiln drying and milling, and, very likely, also some additional wood processing activity."

Owner Retiring

In a letter to H. B. Bucholtz, manager of the Chicago & North Western Railway's Industrial Development Department, Earle said that the main mill and planing mill building, steam plant and dry kilns as a unit, together with operating equipment and such acreage as may be needed for operation are available for lease or purchase. Most of the other buildings and acreage are for sale.

"The reason for discontinuance by the Wisconsin Land & Lumber Co. is the retirement of the owner at 75 and the retirement of the single remaining key executive of the group of 7 with whom portions of the indutrial plant were reactivated 15 years ago," Earle wrote.

C. J. Meyer, the grandfather of Harold Earle, purchased timberlands in the Hermansville area of Menominee County to supply what was then the world's largest sash and door factory at Fond du Lac. The Township of Meyer was named for him and Hermansville was named for his son, Herman. Meyer's business boomed after the Chicago fire of 1871 and in 1878 he started construction of a mill at Hermansville.

Owned Independently

Charcoal kilns and other operations were added and the operations came under the able administration of Dr. G. W. Earle who had wed Charles Meyer's daughter. The Wisconsin Land & Lumber Co. acquired the Simmons Woods tract of 11,000 acres from the Simmons Co. and in 1909 added the Blaney tract of 22,000 acres of the William Mueller Co., to create its great Blaney holdings.

When the Wisconsin Land & Lumber Co. was dissolved in 1948 the Blaney Park Resort which had been developed on that 33,000 acre property was taken over by Stewart E. Earle and the Hermansville property by G. Harold Earle. The properties are personally owned and operated independently.

THIS AERIAL PHOTOGRAPH of the Wisconsin Land & Lumber Co. plant at Hermansville by Bernard Schultz, Escanaba Daily Press photographer, shows the main plant which once housed the Company's IXL hardwood flooring manufacture and storage, and in whch its sawmill is now located. The steam plant is at bottom and the big battery of dry kilns is to the right of the plan, with lumber storage in yards at the top and bottom right. The main street of Hermansville is at top left.

Great Western, C&NW Merging

Stockholders of the Chicago Great Western Railway and Chicago & North Western Railway have voted overwhelmingly in favor of the merger of Great Western into the North Western at special meetings held in Chicago.

Of the 2,101,880 votes cast at the two meetings, 99.33 per cent were voted in favor of the merger.

Approval by the Interstate Commerce Commission is the only step remaining before the merger can be consummated. A joint application for authority to merge was filed by the two companies with the ICC on Nov. 13. Spokesmen for both railroads said they were hopeful the ICC would act promptly on the application so that the merger would be effected in 1965.

Under the terms of the plan and agreement of merger, three-fourths of a share of North Western preferred stock will be issued in exchange for each share of the preferred stock of the Great Western and seven-tenths of a share of North Western common stock for common stock.

$12 Million For Milk Aids Area

This year operators of dairy farms in the Upper Peninsula will gross about $12 million from milk sales alone.

Butcher, baker, machinery maker — thousands benefit from money spent for U. P. Dairymen's production inputs, as well as their living costs.

A typical U. P. dairyman spends $2,114, or 20 per cent of his income with his feed supplier each year, and $2,067 with machinery dealers. Seed, fertilizer and lime take $961 of his income and the trucker who hauls his milk gets $914, farm workers $691, building supply and hardware dealers $670, gas and oil dealers $566 and utilities $373 for electricity, bottled gas and telephone service.

The government takes $347 in taxes, the garageman $340, the auto and truck dealers $276, medical services to his family and livestock $138 and insurance $135.

Dairy farmers grossing $12,000 to $14,000 from milk have an average $50,000 invested in land, buildings and machinery and the return on this money is not large and it is small unless the farm is in the Peninsula's top efficiency group.

John Donovan Ends 50 Years With C&NW

John W. Donovan, Bark River Rte. 1, veteran locomotive engineer who in the past half century has experienced the transition from steam to diesel power while with the Chicago & Northwestern Railway, recently retired.

Donovan began work with the North Western as a locomotive fireman in 1913, and became an engineer before the closing of the era of steam. His retirement was effective Oct. 29 this year.

Mr. and Mrs. Donovan reside at Misery Bay on M-35 south of Escanaba. They will continue to live there in retirement, although they left Friday for a visit with relatives in Wisconsin.

Born in Escanaba, Donovan is a veteran of World War I, served with the U. S. military forces in France, and was married in 1941. Following his retirement after 50 years with the North Western he will devote his leisure to the care and maintenance of his property.

Tech Aids With Chopper Design

HOUGHTON — A Michigan Technological University professor used a computer to "fly" a helicopter Wednesday.

R. J. Enstrom Corp., a Menominee helicopter development firm, had a problem and an analog computer at Michigan Tech is being used to help find an answer. That answer could assist the firm in the refinement of design and the ultimate manufacture of its F-28 three-place helicopter.

Last summer, Dr. D. E. Dawson, associate professor of mathematics and engineering mechanics at Tech, became consultant to the firm to assist in the analysis and possible modifications of their semi-rigid rotor system for helicopters.

This rotor design provides for movement of helicopter rotor blades in only two directions rather than three as in conventional designs, which employ a hinge arrangement for three - directional movements.

Enstrom engineers are completing an advanced helicopter that possesses superior operating, cost, production and flight characteristics.

Although the helicopter model is successful in all important aspects, Enstrom engineers and Dr. Dawson are attempting to give this helicopter the smoothest, most stable characteristics possible.

Wednesday night officials of Enstrom, members of Tech's Flying Club and Dr. Dawson's applied matchematics class witnessed the "flight" on the analog computer by closed circuit television in Fisher Hall auditorium.

Demonstrating the motions which the rotor blades make, the computer took the audience through a simulated flight of the rotors in the F-28 helicopter.

Support of Dr. Dawson's research for Enstrom is in keeping with Tech's "seed concept" of applied research. The university research committee frequently makes small grants, in the form of money, time or equipment, to individual faculty members, with the long-range hope that subsequent funding for such research projects can be obtained from other sources.

Tourist Council Asks $928,556 For Promotion

LANSING (AP) — The Michigan Tourist Council will ask the legislature for $928,556—$236,460 more than it is receiving now—to promote Michigan's nearly $1 billion-a-year tourist industry during the 1965-66 fiscal year.

William T. McGraw, council director, said Friday the proposed budget would boost spending on direct advertising from $300,000 to $376,500.

It also would increase matching funds granted to the state's four regional tourist associations from $140,000 to $160,000, McGraw said.

Parties' New Faces

The Republican and Democratic parties came out of the recent election with new images, and they were not only those marked by defeat and by victory.

If the American people are as perceptive as we think they are it won't be possible for the Democrats to keep selling the Republicans as the party of the money bags and vested interests.

This characterization has been of huge help to the Democrats in the past. It is devastating politically to be accused of serving the rich. Democratic presidents in recent years have been rich men and Republican presidents haven't, but the Republican party image has been tarnished with gilt as much as the political opposition could manage it.

Raymond Moley, one of the original New Dealers who writes a column of perspective for Newsweek Magazine, says in the current issue "The (Democrats), backed by the vast potential of the U.S. Treasury and by plenty exacted directly and indirectly from government contractors and big labor unions, have had the gall to call their party the poor man's friend.

"After past elections, Congressional committees dominated by Democrats have singled out as GOP contributors 'ten rich families' and owners and managers of big corporations. Perceptive Republicans repeatedly have pointed out that the 'rich men's' label must be removed. Now the broader base of support has been achieved.

"Vastly more individual Americans have contributed than ever before in GOP history, almost a million, and if we add amounts collected by women's groups the number of contributors rises to 2 million. In 1960 there were 37,000. Average contributions ran between $9 and $10.

"There was little help from states where the traditional 'fat cats' reside. The official New York party chipped in $8,000; official parties in Massachusetts and Michigan nothing."

While the Republicans were broadening their base and winning the support of worried salary earners, retired persons, young people, small businessmen, housewives, parents and professional people, suggests Moley, the Democratic Party has become dominated by big interests, a coalition of big government, big business and big labor.

It is obvious, as Moley suggests, that a change is underway in the political parties. What its eventual dimensions will be isn't clear yet. Barry Goldwater has suggested again that political conservatives and liberals divide themselves into two clearly recognizeable parties bearing those labels.

Goldwater apparently would hope by his plan to win to the Republicans the conservatives in the Democratic party, but it will take much more than manipulating labels to do this. Political studies show that party loyalties in America are much more inherited than reasoned.

Our major political parties may tend to become more clearly defined as expressing conservative and liberal views of government, but many other factors influence party affiliation and we're apt to see conservatives in the Democratic party and liberals in the Republican party for years to come.

One of the lessons of recent political history is that the symbol of party policy presented by the presidential nominee is strongly influential in the elective process. The Republicans' only recent success has been with Ike Eisenhower and his political thinking was so little identified in the public mind that he would have been acceptable to Democrats as well as to Republicans.

The "cult of personality" which Nikita Khrushchev is accused of having sponsored in Russia is not lacking in American politics.

New Balance of Power

Washington Comment

By RAY CROMLEY

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — The official was tired. He had been working nights and weekends on Viet Nam and now there was this Red Chinese bomb and what to do about it.

As this man described them, the behind-closed-door arguments now going on in the U.S. government on whether or not to destroy Communist China's atomic plants turn you back in history to the agonizing discussions three decades ago on whether — to prevent World War II—we should stop Hitler from rearming Nazi Germany.

Here, then, are some of today's arguments on China as this official put them:

"We couldn't just go in and bomb Communits China's nuclear plants without provocation, even though if we did people all around the world would probably go to bed that night saying 'Thank God.'

"An unprovoked bombing by America could lead to other countries also taking things into their own hands. Nasser could say it was necessary to take out Palestine's airfields now. Brezhnev could say it was necessary to bomb out West Germany's arms factories or De Gaulle's nuclear plants. So it could go. Where would it stop?

"So there would have to be some new open Communist Chinese aggression before we could act.

"If Mao Tse-tung put Chinese troops into Viet Nam; if Red Chinese bombers hit a South Viet Nam airfield, city or barracks; if China-based fighters attacked American bombers over North Viet Nam or U.S. warships in the Tonkin Gulf, that could do it.

"If Red China attacked Quemoy or Matsu off the China coast opposite Formosa or began another invasion attack on India, either of these also could be adequate provocation.

"But no decision has been made on what we would do. And I don't know what we would do. I won't say we would act. I won't say we wouldn't. We've got some hard thinking to do. We're not going to act hastily or recklessly.

"If we knocked out Red China's nuclear plants, the Chinese could build them again. That would take time. Time is valuable in the kind of a world situation we have today.

"Meanwhile, the possibility of U.S. bombings must cause Mao to think, too. He must be leery of giving us cause to knock out his nuclear plants. This probably won't likely stop him from subversion. But one would think it would cause him to hesitate before open aggression.

"Thus these nuclear plants and Mao's undoubted desire to preserve them from attack should give us a freer hand to act in North Viet Nam with less worry of large open Communist Chinese reprisals."

American officials aren't certain what the Soviet Union would do if the United States did carry out bombing raids in Communist China.

U.S. officials I've talked to in the past few days think the Soviet Union couldn't afford to act against a fellow Communist country. They think the Russians would be secretly happy to have the United States cut back Red China's nuclear capability and publicly glad of the chance to denounce us as "imperialist aggressors."

Timely Quotes

The mastering of the nuclear weapons by China is a great encouragement to the revolutionary peoples of the world in their struggles.

Delta Charities Aids Life Blood Work In County

To fully understand the humanitarian objectives of Delta United Charities it is essential to more fully understand the value of blood to the human body — for our life's blood is one of the values involved in the fund campaign of Delta Charities.

The Delta County Chapter of the Red Cross is one of the eight member agencies of DUC. The Red Cross sponsors this county's membership in the Badger Blood Bank.

Through membership in the Badger Blood Bank, every man, woman and child in Delta County is assured that they will be supplied with free blood when they are patients in any hospital in the U. S. Contributions to the DUC therefore support a project which is as vital as your own blood stream—which carries oxygen, water and food to every cell of the body.

In bringing oxygen to the cells, the blood removes carbon dioxide by returning it to the lungs where it is expelled. It carries food from the intestines to the cells and waste products for removal; and it furnishes water to the cells as it travels, distributing heat produced by working muscles, and serves as temperature regulator because of its water content and movement.

The Red And White

The body is guarded against infection by the working of blood's various parts.

Just what is blood? It is made up of cells suspended in liquid. The red cells are the carriers of oxygen through hemoglobin, which consists of iron containing red pigment (hemo) combined with a protein substance (globin). Red blood cells live about 100 to 120 days and then must be replaced. Best food sources to keep this hemoglobin at a normal level are meat, eggs, green leaf vegetables and whole grain breads and cereals. The average man has 30 trillion red cells in his blood.

The white cells are the disease fighters. There is one white cell to every 600 red cells. They travel rapidly to the place where they are needed and engulf the enemy infection. As many as 20 bacteria have been found inside one attacking white cell.

Platelets in the blood bring about blood coagulation to stop the flow of blood in an injury. There are about 1½ trillion platelets in the normal body and they live only 3 or 4 days and must be replaced.

Something To Share

The plasma, about 91½ per cent water and 7 per cent proteins and small amounts of fats, sugar and mineral salts, maintains the sticky quality of blood that is necessary for normal blood pressure.

The normal human adult of average weight has about 12 to 13 pints of blood in his body.

Theer are four main groups of blood—A, B, AB, and 0.

When a person requires a whole blood transfusion he must have a blood that matches his group. Before transfusion samples of a donor's and patient's blood are matched. If the cells of the donor's sample do not clump when added to the blood serum of the patient's sample, the bloods are compatible and successful transfusions are possible.

This is the story of your blood and how it works and why it is important to you—and to others. For if you are one of the fortunate ones, you may share your wealth of blood to help others less fortunate. Delta United Charities helps the Red Cross and the Badger Blood Bank sponsor this life-giving service.

Letters To The Press

BY-PASS

Maybe you could fashion an editorial from the enclosed clipping taken from the Chicago Tribune. Remember when U. S.-2 was rerouted around Gladstone? It seems Portage, Wis., was jubilant when their highway was made a by-pass. We know that the businessmen of Gladstone were not and that the motel and tourist businesses have suffered.

Nels Von Tell

The clipping:

"High school bands played and state and local officials hailed the dedication of an eight-mile expressway bypassing Portage as an occasion that will free the city of congestion from throughway traffic travel. Herald Sommers, hardware merchant and president of the Chamber of Commerce expressed it this way:

"'Truckers and motorists not wanting to stop in Portage won't have to buck the local traffic on narrow and winding streets we inherited from our early history as an outpost of civilization.'

"Local officials at the dedication said that the community was reluctant for many years to accept proposals for a by-pass and finally adopted them with apprehension. Now that the improvement is completed, they said that the event is being celebrated with confidence in its future economic benefits."

Finding The Way

Anchor Roots In Faith

By RALPH W. LOEW, D. D.

There are two kinds of leafless trees in our neighborhood. Some have known the glory of the recent weeks, holding for a brief moment the glint of sunshine through the brilliance of rampant color.

There are the others, tall elms marked with a tatoo of blue, the smudge which has been placed by the foresters to indicate a diseased tree. This is more like the marking of the leper in ancient times than the hateful marking by the racist of our own time.

And what of mankind as winter comes? The Psalmist talked of a good man as a good tree whose leaf would not wither. He wasn't discussing the seasonal changes; he was talking of the death of honor. He asserted that whatever a man's accomplishments or personal triumphs, there must be a rootage of character which is marked by a man's relationship with his God and reflected in his relationships with his fellows.

This is the kind of person who is in distinct contrast to the "leafless desert of the mind, the waste of feelings unemployed" whom Byron described.

To ask a person to keep on hoping is not to settle for things as they are. Real hope is never satisfied with the present. It doesn't give up to the blue smudge of a dead tree or quit because the leaves are gone for a season. Many a wise man's courage has been mulched by the leaves of receiving defeats until he came through the long winter of discontent.

There is a sentence from St. Paul which reads: "Tribulation works patience, patience works experience, and experience brings hope." Dr. Erwin Aubrey paraphrased that description aptly by saying: "The presures of life develop staying power, and staying power brings competence and competence develops hope."

It is this hope that is too frequently endangered. There's no easy answer nor glib solution but somehow there must be new rootage, and the belief that just as there are no automatic victories there are also no permanent defeats, unless the core of the structure of our hope is diseased.

It was a confident faith that caused that ancient poet to sing, "Blessed is the man who walks not in the counsel of the ungodly, nor stands in the way of sinners nor sits in the seat of the scornful."

Someone once said that institutions aren't killed. They just die and then someone comes along and buries them. It's not quite true, but there's enough of a sharp edge there to hurt. Maybe it's the blue smudge that marks the diseased tree, and then there is the sound of another fallen masterpiece of the generations. It's not the season to worry about the fallen leaves. These are the seasonal defeats. The real concern of the man of faith is the health of the tree and that, says every saint of the years, is what happens when a man has kept faith with the Almighty!

Gabby Women Get Slammed

Dear Ann Landers: Please don't tell me you aren't a lawyer. I know you aren't, but you say you want to help people in trouble and I'm in plenty right now.

My wife and I went to an open-air theatre last week and we sat right behind a couple of gabby women. My wife asked them twice if they would please be quiet so we could hear the lines. They said they were there to enjoy themselves and if we didn't like it we could find other seats.

After 20 minutes of listening to those magpies my wife lost her temper and slammed the noisiest one over the head with her pocketbook. The woman let out a scream which of course created a disturbance.

The manager rushed over, took our names and asked us to leave. Yesterday my wife received an order to appear in court. The charge is assault and battery. The woman was neither assaulted nor battered. Must we go to court on these trumped-up charges? — S.L.

Dear S. L.: Since you already know I am not a lawyer I don't have to tell you that I will tell you, however, that you'd better hire one. What you received was a summons and this means no foolin'.

Dear Ann Landers: Please tell me what to do with a 16-year-old high school girl who wants to go with boys, wear lipstick and spends most of her allawance on Beatle records.

My mother didn't let me wear lipstick or go on a date with a boy until I was 18. I didn't resent my mother's strictness. I acepted it because I felt she knew better than I did. Our daughter does NOT acept what I say. She thinks she knows verything.

Her grades are excellent and I want them to stay that way. I'm afraid her school work will slip when she starts dating and she'll go crazy like her girl friends. Please say something that will help me keep this child from running wild. Thank you, B. G.

Dear B. G.: Sorry, I see no evidence that your daughter wants to "run wild."

A 16-year-old girl who makes excelent grades should be allowed to date on Friday and Saturday nights AND wear lipstick, if it is not against the rules of the school.

Children reared with too much discipline turn out as poorly as those who had too little. The wise parent finds the happy middle-ground and holds a firm rein with a loving hand.

Dear Ann Landers: There are 10 ladies in our poker club. We are between the ages of 35 and 45 and all married. The winners donate half of their winings to the kitty and twice a year we treat ourselves to a night on the town—without husbands.

For the last three years we've had the same problem and your advice is going to be read at the next meeting. Three women in our group seem to have built-in radar when it comes to finding unattached men. They start out by exchanging a few phrases. The next think you know they are dancing with pick-ups.

The other members of the club feel this is not respectable. The three roamers say we are stuffy and the idea of a night out is to have as much fun as possible. How about a word from you, Ann?—THE SHAMROCKS

Dear Rocks: Your wandering club sisters are out of order.

Why not have one party a year, instead of two, and take your husbands? This makes more sense than ten dames going to a night club without escorts.

Do you feel ill at ease . . . . out of it? Is everybody have a good time but you? Write for ANN LANDERS' new booklet, "The Key To Popularity," enclosing with your request 35c in coin and a long- self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Chips And Splinters

Contributions To Chips Welcomed

Among the oddities of the recent presidential campaign was a report to the readers of the Winter Park, Florida Star on election trends in Escanaba by Haynes Johnson, Star staff writer.

It said "A number of Republicans who were leaning strongly toward Johnson now are swinging back int othe Republican column. These Republicans are still unhappy with Goldwater, but they have convinced themselves that Johnson is not the man to lead the country. The so-called moral issue is the key to their switch."

★ ★ ★

The area is described: "The country is as beautiful as its reputation and the people as friendly as one has heard. They are the kind of people who take great pride in their city and its traditions. Perhaps they have had to be so close because of their geographical isolation, but the result today is still a tightly knit community. They are joiners and participants.

"A college girl, who said she had read Sinclair Lewis' 'Main Street,' and 'Dodsworth' this year in school commented 'And it was just like seeing so many I know here in Escanaba.'"

"But if George Babbitt still lives here, he is really a rather nice fellow after all.

"Yet, despite its charm. Escanaba and the Upper Peninsula have fallen on hard times in the past decade. Those hard times naturally are reflected politically . . . Unemployment has remained at about 10 per cent and the area has been labelled 'distressed.'

Johnson questioned Chamber of Commerce President John Mitchell and Manager Walter Lewke about anti-Johnson literature circulated in the campaign in a way that indicated that the Star's interest was in the success of anti - Johnson books. "A housewife in Escanaba said she had just come from Chicago, where she had heard about a book. 'I don't understand how a person can be broke in 1944 and all of a sudden he's got all that money and he can't explain it.'"

In Iron Mountain a laborer on the street said ("with a sneer") "This is hungry town."

Five Railroad Unions Sign Up

CHICAGO (AP) — The nation's railroads and five nonoperating unions representing 290,000 members, today announced they had reached an agreement in a wage dispute. The unions, which had not threatened to strike, agreed to terms proposed by a presidential emergency board.

The three-year contracts were announced by J. E. Wolfe of the National Labor Railway Conference, the railroad's bargaining unit. The unions are the clerks, maintenance of way, telegraphers, hotel and restaurant employes and signal men.

Wolfe said the agreement provides for wage increases of 27 cents an hour — nine cents retroactive to Jan. 1, 1964 and similar increases the same date in 1965 and 1966. It also includes an additional two cents an hour effective Jan. 1, 1966, to cover increasing costs of health and welfare benefits.

Wages in the non-operating unions average $2.58 an hour.

The only other union which has not signed a new agreement with the railroads is the carmen, but they had not called a strike.

Wintry Winds Chill Wide Area

By The Associated Press

The coldest weather of the season, along with snow and gusty winds, knifed across wide areas in the eastern half of the nation today, cutting off the long period of mild autumn temperatures.

Arctic air poured into the north central states, dropping temperatures far below zero and 20 or more degrees below normal marks. The cold air spread eastward and southward and the mercury hit freezing in sections of the Southland. Freeze warnings were posted for Georgia, Alabama and Mississippi.

The biting cold struck a month before the start of the winter season.

Cold wave warnings were issued by the Weather Bureau for eight Midwest states from the Dakotas to Kansas and northwest Illinois. The zero zone covered areas through Minnesota to Nebraska and the Dakotas into northeast Montana.

A storm center raced across the Great Lakes toward Canada. Stiff winds whipped heavy snow squalls off Lake Micihgan and Lake Erie. Seven inches of snow fell in South Bend, Ind., the scene of one of today's major college football games — Iowa at Notre Dame, the nation's No. 1 team.

Wind gusts up to 55 miles per hour off Lake Erie lashed Buffalo and western New York early today. The Weather Bureau in Buffalo predicted heavy snow accumulations.

The deer was hung in trees when three young men in a car stopped, cut it down, and placed it on their car.

A coin was flipped to see whose deer tag would be put on it and Wallace John Gilbert, 20, of Cement City won.

He cut off the owner's tag and put on his. With him were David Dean McEntire, 17, and George Thomas Gillett, 18, both of Cement City.

After taking the deer they headed toward Jackson, with the deer mounted on their blue and white convertible.

In the interim the deer was reported missing and a description of a car seen in the area with young men in it.

Officers of the Manistique Post heard the broadcast and Thursday evening stopped the car while it was passing through Manistique.

The three were charged with simple larceny and are being turned over to L'Anse State Police. They gave officers a statement admitting taking the deer.

The hunter, Gene Harbaugh, 136 Woodstock, Cement City, went through Manistique Friday afternoon enroute home and very happily recovered his 11-point hunting success to put it on his own car and head home.

He told officers prior to the theft of the deer he had met the three young men in a restaurant and had talked with them. Apparently they left the restaurant and went for his deer

Area Has First Snowfall; Three Car Accidents

Manistique's first groundcover of snow Thursday resulted in three accidents, State Police report.

George W. Corey, 81, of Grand Marais lost control of his car on U. S. 2, two miles east of Schoolcraft Road 432 and ran into small trees and brush, damaging the left side of his auto. He was ticketed for excessive speed. The accident happened at 3:45 p. m.

At 10:30 a. m., Thursday, cars driven by Russell LeValley, 46, of Vassar and Francis W. Krepps, 51, of Ravenna were involved in an accident on M 77, at County Road 498. Officers said LeValley stopped for a stop sign and then pulled in front of Krepps. The front of Krepps' car hit the rear of LeValley's.

At 10 a. m., a car driven by Harold P. Murphy, 67, of Rte. 1, Gulliver had the rear damaged when struck by another auto, on U. S. 2, a half mile west of County Road 438. Investigation of the accident was to be continued Friday night as the second driver was hunting and could not be contacted, officers said. Damage was slight.

With The Hunters

Floyd Sample, Thompson supervisor, reports his wife downed her deer, a 140-pound doe at 8 a. m., Saturday but he doesn't have his yet. Elton Sample and his son, Wayne, also have been successful hunters south of Thompson.

Crusaders Beat Eskymos 72-64 In Opener

Trotter Tallies 27 To Set Victory Pace

The Holy Name Crusaders authored a thrilling first chapter to their 1964-65 basketball book Friday night by edging Escanaba 72-64 before a capacity crowd at the Holy Name gym.

Coach John Butrymowicz's cagers stormed out to an early lead, lost it late in the third quarter and then took command in the final two minutes of action.

Quarterbacking the Crusaders to their initial triumph of the campaign was guard Frank Trotter who displayed the form that made him an All-Upper Peninsula selection as a junior by pumping in nine goals and nine gift throws for 27 points.

Trotter had solid support in the scoring column by senior forward Jim Micheau who matched him with nine buckets and added two free tosses for 20 points. Walter Veldman, senior center, gave Holy Name three men in double figures with a 10 point effort.

Veldman had personal foul problems after the first quarter and eventually fouled out in the closing seconds of the game, but was a major factor for the Crusaders under the boards. Mike Kidd, in his first starting assignment with the Crusaders, also fouled out early in the final period.

Coach Harold Johnson's Eskymos had a balanced attack paced by guard Dick Sivertsen who hit for 13 points. Jerry Hanson, although hampered by a knee injury, produced a dozen points from the other guard spot. Dave Boileau, Paul Christensen and Steve Oman pitched in eight apiece and Carl Olson added seven, Jim Clairmont six and Paul Meunier two to round out the Escanaba production.

Holy Name stunned the Eskymos with a fast break attack that produced a 12-2 lead in the first four minutes of action. Trotter, Micheau and Bill Menard were on the scoring end of the fast break that gave the Crusaders a 10 point lead again at 16-6 before the Eskymos came alive to close the gap to 18-12 at the end of the first period.

Holy Name built its biggest margin to 27-16 midway in the second quarter but couldn't maintain the pace as the Eskymos surged back behind buckets by Christensen, Meunier and Sivertsen and free throws by Oman and Olson to narrow the gap to 27-24. The half ended with Holy Name leading 29-25.

Escanaba snatched the lead at 38-37 with 3:35 remaining in the third period on a field goal by Sivertsen and Olson quickly added a bucket to make it 40-37. The Crusaders battled back to hold a 47-45 edge entering the fourth quarter.

It was anybody's ball game until the final two minutes of the contest. Holy Name had a slim 60-58 lead when Trotter popped in a field goal with 2:13 left. Micheau put three points on the board with a bucket and a free throw and added another field goal following a pair of gift tosses by Esky's Hanson. That made it 67-60 with 1:20 to go and the Eskymos were forced to foul in an effort to get possession down the stretch. Free throws by Trotter and Menard accounted for Holy Name's final five points. The Eskymos lost Clairmont on a final foul with 25 seconds remaining in the game.

Holy Name's jayvees won the preliminary by a 47-46 margin.

Eben Defeats Cooks Quintet

MANISTIQUE—The underdog Cooks Clippers gave highly regarded Eben a run for its money here Friday before bowing 59-48 in a Central League cage contest.

Coach Norman Jahn's Cooks quint held a one point lead at 38-37 late in the third quarter but couldn't stick with the tall and talented Eagles of Coach Jim Depew.

Complete domination of the boards paid off down the stretch as Andy Freberg pumped in eight points in the final quarter for Eben.

The Hartman brothers, Phil and Neil, combined to score 40 of the Cooks points and Bruce Swagart turned in an outstanding floor game.

Eben won the jayvee game 37-29.

P-S Tigers Nip Rapid River In Two Overtimes

RAPID RIVER — Steve Pipkorn, 5 foot 8 inch senior, rang the bell with a field goal with five seconds remaining in the game to give new coach Tom Lequia's Powers-Spaldinig Tigers a 68-66 double overtime decision over Rapid River here Friday.

Pipkorn had tallied the final field goal in regulation time to tie the game at 58-58. His bucket came with less than a half minute remaining in the contest.

The teams traded buckets in the first overtime, Dick Forslund scoring for Rapid River and Bill Behrend tieing the score at 60-60 with a two-pointer in the closing seconds.

Rapid River grabbed the lead in the second overtime but an attempted shot in the final minute backfired as the Tigers rebounded and set the stage for Pipkorn's game winning field goal.

Rapid River's Doug Moss hammered in 28 points and was a demon on the boards before drawing his fifth personal foul at the 2-minute mark in the first overtime. The Rockets also lost Forslund with a serious ankle injury in that first extra session.

Pipkorn, Mike Nelson and Bill Hawrylow gave the Tigers a three-pronged scoring attack, each hitting 15 points.

The Rapid River jayvees won the preliminary, 55-37.

Last Shall Be First In National Football Draft

By The Associated Press

The last shall be first after the National Football League's battle of the basement is decided Sunday at Chicago and New York.

While Baltimore shoots for the Western Division title at Los Angeles and Cleveland tries to lengthen its Eastern Division lead at Green Bay, the defrocked Bears and Giants play hosts in a four-club cellar struggle. And the losers may turn out to be winners.

The first choice in next Saturday's NFL draft of college stars will be at stake when the Bears play San Francisco and the Giants meet Pittsburgh.

If the Giants, 2-6-2, lose to the Steelers, 3-7, they will get the first pick — which goes to the team with the worst won-lost record at the completion of Sunday's games. If the Steelers lose, they'll share the bottom of the pile with the Bears-49ers loser and a coin flip will determine who kicks off the draft.

The Bears, who have acquired Pittsburgh's first-round pick in a trade, conceivably could wind up with the first two selections in the grab-bag.

Last-place finishes by New York and Chicago in the East and West, respectively, would mark the first time in NFL history that both division champions made the full tumble. The Bears topped the Giants 14-10 in last year's championship playoff.

In Sunday's other games Detroit, mathematically alive in the Western race, plays Minnesota; St. Louis, second to Cleveland in the East, visits Philadelphia and Dallas is at Washington.

The Boston Patriots edged the Denver Broncos 12-7 Friday night in an American Football League game. Sunday's AFL pairings are New York-Oakland and Houston-Kansas City. San Diego and Buffalo, idle over rthe weekend, meet on Thanksgiving Day.

The Colts bidding for a title-clinching 10th staight triumph, may find the Rams harder to handle than in their first meeting. The Colts won that one 35-20 on three long Johnny Unitas-Jimmy Orr touchdown passes in the second half.

Since then, Los Angeles has unveiled three offensive stars — quarterback Roman Gabriel, rookie pass-catcher Bucky Pope and rookie running back Les Josephson. Tackle Frank Varrichione, bulwark of the Rams' offensive line, sat out last week's loss to Chicago but is slated to play against the Colts, whose veteran end, Raymond Berry, may be unavailable.

The Browns are two victories away from the Eastern title but could wrap it up Sunday if they upend the favored Packers while the Cardinals lose to Philadelphia. The inter-division game will match the league's Nos. 1 and 2 rushers, Jimmy Brown of Cleveland and Jim Taylor of Greren Bay.

Negaunee Blitz Stuns Gladstone

NEGAUNEE—The Gladstone Braves ran into a shooting blitz here Friday night that still had Coach Bill Wood in a daze Saturday morning.

"The best shooting I've ever seen in my life," Wood declared after his cagers bowed to the Negaunee Miners 85-66 in a Great Lakes Conference game.

The Miners, coached this year by Bob Ellis, hit half of their field goal attempts to jolt the Braves. The Miners were happy to shoot over the Gladstone zone defense and fired away from as far out as 25 and 30 feet. They started like a house afire with 11 of their first 17 shots to take a 27-13 lead at the end of the initial quarter.

Negaunee's lead at the half was 48-32 and the Miners salted it away in the third quarter in which they spread their margin to 68-46.

While the Miners were hot, the Braves were cold, hitting only 21 of 74 from the field and 24 of 44 from the foul line.

In the rebounding department the Miners had a slim 51 to 45 edge. Bruce Hawkinson was Gladstone's big man on the boards while contributing 15 points. Little Lynn LaPlant of Gladstone took scoring honors for the night with 19 and Rick Ebbeson tallied 13 before fouling out early in the third period.

Four Miners reached double digits, topped by Maino with 19 points.

Emeralds Bow In First Game At Ishpeming

ISHPEMING—A 13-7 first quarter lead went down the drain here Friday night as Coach Rudie Brandstrom's Emeralds bowed to Ishpeming, 67-49, in Great Lakes Conference action.

The lanky Emeralds moved out to a 4-0 lead to open the contest. Ishpeming struggled back in the second quarter and pulled ahead shortly before the intermission on two field goals, the final one at the buzzer by Doug Perttunen to make it 28-25.

The host Hematites found the range in the third period to pour in nine of 12 field goal attempts, many of them from outside, to take command of the action.

Ishpeming pulled steadily away in the final quarter in which the Hematites outscored the Emeralds 20 to 9.

Perttunen paced four Hematites in double figures with 20 points.

Tom Brawley and Eric Blomquist nailed 17 points apiece for Manistique, accounting for 14 of the 21 field goals scored by the Emeralds. Brawley turned in an outstanding rebounding performance.

Jon Cameron, hampered by a twisted ankle suffered Thursday, produced only one field goal for the Emeralds.

Ninth Hole Is Trouble Spot

LAFAYETTE, La. (AP) — The ninth hold on the Oakbourne Country Club course is a short par three affair but it's troubling Arnold Palmer and Jack Nicklaus—who are locked in battle for the top fairway money honors of the year—as well as the rest of the pros playing in the $25,000 Cajun Classic golf tourney.

The trouble with No. 9 is the strategically placed lagoon in front of the green plus buildings, bushes and the tees to two other holes behind it.

Just about the only pro not singing the blues about the ninth hole after Friday's first round was Dick Chassee, a teaching pro from Covington, La.

Chassee took his 2-iron and aced the hole, registering the 19th hole in one this year on the play-for-pay circuit.

Frank Beard, the bespectacled Louisville, Ky., swinger whose five under par 67 gave him the first round lead, had a bogey on No. 9.

Palmer, the fairway capitalist from Pennsylvania, got a double bogey five there. Had he not gone in the drink, he probably would have parred the hole for a 66 and the lead.

As it was, Palmer had a 68—good enough to deadlock him in second place with his longtime challenger from Ohio, Nicklaus, and two other pros—volatile Dave Hill and rookie Cotton Dunn of Duncan, Okla.

Palmer, winner of more than $111,000 this year, is shooting for his third consecutive money championship.

The Davis Cup, emblematic of the world's amateur tennis championship, has been won by either Australia or the United States in every yaer since 1936.

Trenary Tips Little Giants

ROCK — The Rock Little Giants blew an early 11-1 lead and bowed to Trenary 53-31 in Central League action here Friday night.

After taking early control of the battle the Little Giants led 12-7 at the end of the first quarter. Trenary stormed back to grab a 22-20 edge at halftime.

Rock failed to score a point in a nightmare third quarter and the Comets pulled out of reach, 36-20, entering the finale.

Gary Flynn of Trenary pumped in 20 points for individual scoring honors.

Solitude Is Lure But Hiking's Top Delight

BY LEE SMITS

"Multiple use" is a recent and highly important addition to the language of conservation. It covers a wide range of activities, from water skiing to sustained-yield logging, including one use of outdoor resources that is not easily defined; being a part of, being aware of nature's entrancing pageant.

Pity the hunter, the fisherman, the mushroom gatherer, the rock-hound, the field-trail fan who misses out on this all important fringe benefit.

To illustrate. On an autumnal afternoon I left an incredible 70 mph freeway — I-96— a few miles east of Grand Rapids for an hour's relaxation. Turned off the freeway onto black top, then off black top onto gravel and off gravel onto a winding clay road, parked the car and headed across country. It was inviting countryside for a solitary walker; abandoned farm land, which undoubtedly will soon be a built-up division.

★ ★ ★

THERE WAS a plantation of small pines, Norway or Scotch, I forget which. Tall grass, brush and an ancient orchard. Apple trees nearing the end of their life span, some of them almost two feet thick at breast height. Surrounded by thickets of shoots. Tangled with dead and dying limbs, yet overburdened with ripening apples! Here and there an old pear tree, a peach tree, all loaded with fruit which, from all appearances, will be harvested by animals.

The animals will be ready for it, and ready for the walnuts and hickory nuts, scattered under trees in a woodlot. In the dust of the winding road were tracks of cottontail, coon, fox squirrel — and deer. Big deer tracks, little deer tracks. A doe with a fawn that left prints about the size of a quarter.

I watched a soaring hawk. Chewed a sassafras twig, heard a tree frog. The land was not posted. I needed no license, no equipment. Needed a shoeshine by the time I got back to the car, but otherwise, it was all free.

★ ★ ★

WE NOW HAVE a detailed scientific study of what kinds of outdoor recreation are most desired by a certain section of the public. From Paul Barrett of the Conservation Department comes a typed, loose-leaf book, "The Motivations and Satisfactions of Visitors to Isle Royale National Park, Michigan."

It is a report to Governor Romney's Interdepartmental Resources Development Committee, submitted by Stanley R. Cain, professor of conservation at the University of Michigan School of Natural Resources. The report is the work of Miss Mary Ann Buckley, graduate student.

Miss Buckley rode back and forth, on the handsome Park Service vessel, Ranger III, for 10 weeks asking visitors on their way to the Island or returning from the Island to fill out lists of questions, why they liked the Island and how much they liked it. Electronic brains were utilized in drawing conclusions from a sampling of 300 persons.

★ ★ ★

ONLY VISITORS over 16 were interviewed. More than half of them were past 51.

Dancing, water skiing and swimming were among the activities nobody engaged in. Families made up 67.6 per cent of the Ranger III passenger list. In order of interest were hiking, 70.9 per cent; photography, 72 per cent; "being alone with nature," 47 per cent; fishing, 35 per cent; camping, 19 per cent.

Certainly no area in this part of the country offers the variety of outdoor living conditions to be found on the Island. Modern motel, housekeeping cottages, screened camp shelters, and miles and miles of wilderness hiking over marked trails. Many family parties brought boats with them, or outboard motors. A few had two boats. The best way to explore the Island is by boat — with a large-scale government chart in hand!

Now that state and federal government are concerned with the necessity for expanding recreational opportunities, more and more attention will be given to such elusive values as solitude, especially since a large percentage of the population is too old to water ski.

New MSU Medic School Delayed

EAST LANSING (AP)—Michigan State University President John Hannah reported to trustees Thursday that a delay in the opening of MSU's new two-year medical college was recommended by a medical and college accreditation group.

"It is clear that we will not be able to accept medical students in September of next year," Hannah said.

The new college originally was set to open next fall.

Hannah told trustees that MSU officials concurred with recommendations of a joint accreditation committee of the Association of American Medical Colleges and the American Medical Association.

The accrediting group, which already has approved the facility, recommended that more time be taken to complete physical facilities, recruit staff members and establish cooperative agreements with area hospitals.

Hannah said it probably will be the fall of 1966 before the school is opened.

A main factor in the delay, he said, was construction strikes at the $4.7 new Veterinary Medicine Building. This will prevent the Human Medicine College from taking over space in the building now used by the College of Veterinary Medicine, Hannah said.

Big Balloon Falls In Pasture At Pawhuska, Okla.

PAWHUSKA, Okla. (AP) — A balloon "larger than a football field" fell on a pasture owned by Richard Harding and he still doesn't know what to do with it.

Harding, a rancher, said the balloon has no identification and carried no instrument package. He has contacted the Federal Aviation Agency, but hasn't been able to learn the balloon's origin.

The rancher said the balloon descended Wednesday night and tore down 150 feet of telephone line and over 20 feet of fence as it came to earth. Harding said several small trees were uprooted by the balloon.

Harding said he is just going to leave the balloon, made of a clear plastic material reinforced with nylon threads, until its owner is found.

ACADEMIC APPAREL

The custom of wearing academic caps and gowns, which had been a part of European graduation exercises since the 14th century, was not adopted in the United States until the early 1880s.

Old Currency Up For Auction

By ED MARKAITY

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—Furniture auctioneer Ray Gourley will step to the auction block Thanksgiving night with a curious collection of coins and bills worth at least $3,000—and maybe thousands more to an ever-growing market of U. S. coin faddists.

Gourley, of suburban Cutlerville, has spent a hectic week trying to catalogue the find, including many rare items.

Says Gouley who is working on a commission basis. "I don't know what it's worth."

He said they were placed in his hands for auction by a Grand Rapids man, who for 25 years as proprietor of a beer store had tossed interesting-looking coins into various receptacles. Gourley said the owner wished to remain anonymous.

Gourley is an expert in appraisal of used furniture and appliances but said he was caught blank on coin values. He said he bought a coin-collectors catalogue before taking on the task of preparing the load for sale.

He and several helpers spent six hours one day sorting dimes alone.

Gourley said he would accept bids at face value for most of the coins. Some special pieces, such as a couple of 1858 "Flying Eagle" pennies and other coins dating to the mid-Eighteenth Century, will be offered separately.

Included in the treasure are a few bills, such as a $10 bill from 1928 bearing the imprint of the old American National Bank of Grand Rapids. Gourley hasn't any idea how much these are worth beyond $10.

The Thanksgiving auction is only a starter. The man who owns the coins has told Gourley that he also wants to place on auction a few thousand more he has in a bank safety deposit box.

Boston Barely Edges Denver In AFL Battle

BOSTON (AP) — Boston linebacker Tom Addison pried loose his helmet and summed up the 12-7 victory over Denver — "we had a big letdown."

Gino Cappelletti, who had a touchdown pass reception, a 50-yard field goal and a conversion kick to account for 10 points added: "Nobody had it."

The general feeling was the Patriots parlayed defense and luck to salvage the American Football League triumph they needed to keep hot on Buffalo's trail in the Eastern Division race. With three weeks to go Boston is now one game back of the Bills whom the Patriots knocked from the unbeaten ranks 36-28 a week ago.

The victory was costly. Coach Mike Holovak indicated regular offensive right tackle Bob Yates and defensive back Dick Felt are through for the year. Yates tore knee ligaments and Felt reinjured the ankle that has hobbled him all season.

"The defensive team really came through — it had to," said Holovak. "I guess it's better if you play badly and win rather than play good and lose.

"But if it's luck I'll take it. A year from now, it'll still be a victory."

Boston's defense kept the Broncos in check in a game which wasn't settled until Ross O'Hanley intercepted a Jackie Lee pass on his 20 with only 10 seconds left. No man in the defense stood out more than Addison who made five solo tackles, aided on five more and made a critical pass defense play.

"I think the key was failing to score early in the game," said quarterback Babe Parilli who hit on 13 of 33 passes for 222 yards. "If we had, it would have been different. But Denver has a real tough defense. They really hit."

Parilli was the one who fumbled one half yard away from the Broncos' goal in the opening minutes of play. He threw a 26-yard scoring strike to Cappelletti in the second period.

At 132 points with three games to play, Cappelletti is now just 16 points short of breaking his league single season scoring mark he set in 1961.

An interception set up Denver's lone score, an 11 yard pass from Lee to Lionel Taylor. The latter acught five passes in the game and became the first man in AFL history to gather in 400 aerials.

Boston now has an 8-2-1 record compared to idle Buffalo's 9-1. Denver is 2-9.

The rest of the AFL schedule this weekend lists Kansas City at Houston and New York at Oakland Sunday.

Fight Is Set For WBA Title

NEW YORK (AP) — Ernie Terrell and Cleveland Williams will meet for the World Boxing Association's version of the heavyweight boxing championship.

The WBA, which has stripped Cassius Clay of the title, said Friday that Terrell and Williams, ranked first and second respectively by the organization, will fight for the vacated crown at a time and place to be announced later.

The winner then will defend his title against the survivor of a fight, scheduled for Jan. 29, between former champion Floyd Patterson of New York and George Chuvalo of Toronto. Patterson, ranked No. 3 by the WBA, and Chuvalo, No. 4, have agreed to meet in a 12-round bout at Madison Square Garden.

The WBA made no mention of Clay, former champion, or Sonny Liston. They were to have fought in a title bout in Boston last Monday, but Clay had to undergo surgery for a hernia.

Clay's business manager, Bill Faversham, doubted that the public would accept the Terrell-Williams winner as champion.

"I don't believe the press or public will recognize either Williams who was knocked out by Liston twice or Terrell, who was Clay's sparring partner twice, as champion of the world," he said.

"What they ought to do is have the elimination tournament and have the winner fight Clay which we are perfectly willing to do after we fight Liston.

Marlene Hagge Early Leader

BILOXI, Miss. (AP) — Little Marlene Hagge, who started golf at 3½ and turned pro at 16, took a two-stroke lead into today's second round of the $17,000 Mary Mills Tournament.

The 5-fooot-2, Pensacola, Fla., swinger — known as Gremlin on the tour—was the only one to break par on the wind-chilled Broadwater Beach Course Friday.

While the mercury dropped 30 degrees to the mid-40s, Mrs. Hagge came in with a 33-36—69 round.

The 54-hole tourney ends Sunday.

Pistons Fashion Fourth Victory For New Coach

By The Associated Press

Dave DeBusschere, who doubles in basketball and baseball, was a surprised young man when the Detroit Pistons asked him to triple in brass.

The Pistons have been surprising National Basketball Association rivals ever since.

Ray Scott's last-second basket gave Detroit a 106-105 victory over Baltimore Friday night and boosted 24-year-old DeBusschere's coaching record to 4-1 since he was named to succeed Charley Wolf last week.

Dave, a Detroit University graduate who spends his summers pitching in the Chicago White Sox organization, scored 20 points as Detroit climbed to within 1½ games of the third-place Bullets in the NBA's Western Division race.

In a doubleheader at Philadelphia, the St. Louis Hawks rallied from 13 points behind and tipped the 76ers 118-115 after the Boston Celtics, led by sharp-shooting Sam Jones, defeated New York 127-120, running the Knicks' losing string to eight straight. In Los Angeles, the Lakers held off Cincinnati 131-121.

DeBusschere, beginning his third NBA season as a player, almost wore goat horns in a hectic finish against the Bullets. The Pistons, trailing 105-104, held the ball 18 seconds before DeBusschere missed a shot from the corner.

But Baltimore knocked the ball out of bounds and the pass-in went to Scott, who whirled and fired in the winning two-pointer from beyond the free throw line.

St. Louis stormed from 10 points down to 10 points ahead with a 42-point third quarter and held off Philadelphia's late rally to hand the 76ers their fourth straight setback. Richie Guerin and Bill Bridges each scored five points during a run of 13 straight St. Louis points that put the Hawks in front to stay.

Sam Jones, who led the Celtics with 29 points, hit for three field goals in the closing minutes, countering a New York burst that almost wiped out a 20-point deficit. Rookies Jim Barnes and Butch Komives, who finished with 28 and 18 points, respectively, led the Knicks' abortive rally

Jerry West and Elgin Baylor paced the Laker victory as Los Angeles turned back the Royals each time Cincinnati threatened its lead. West scored 37 points and Baylor had 28.

Kansas Kegler Paces Tourney

CHICAGO (AP) — Bob Chase, 31, of Kansas City, Kan., who hasn't done much since finishing second in the 1960 All-Star in Omaha, Neb., took the lead Friday night at the end of the first round of qualifying for the eighth annual $52,000 World's Invitational Bowling Tournament.

Chase rolled a five-game series of 1,139, giving him a two-pin edge over Andy Rogoznica of Chicago, who had 1,137. In third place was Dave Souter of Detroit with an 1,109.

Chase rolled games of 217, 233, 246, 216, and 227.

The 160 men are shooting for a $7,500 first prize and will bowl five games a day through Monday, when the field will be cut to 80 for the Tuesday semifinals. The match game phase of the tournament opens on Wednesday, when the high 15 scorers join Jim St. John, the defending champion from Santa Clara, Cal., in the match game finals.

In the women's division, with all 80 of the bowlers finished, Olga Gloor of Chicago, the 1959 champion, led the field with 1,022 for five games. Only one pin back was Dot Wilkinson of Phoenix, Ariz., the 1962 champion, with 1,021. In third place was a former softballl player, Jean Winsch of South Bend, Ind., with 1,012.

High games for the day were 279s rolled by Billy Golembiewski, of Detroit and Johnny King of Chicago

Drought Damage Spotty In State

LANSING (AP) — Michigan's agricultural statistics — brimming with bumper crops—don't show much sign of a drought this year, but farmers in parts of southwest Michigan tell a much different, and unhappier, story.

The Michigan Department of Agriculture says drought damage was "spotty."

To the farmer in those "spots," the drought was "rougher than I hope to see again," said Robert Coomer of Nottawa, in St. Joseph County.

Michigan's dry condition could lead to more troubles this winter, the Conservation Department says.

Bad For Fish

A certain amount of winter fish kill is normal. But Dr. Wayne Tody of the department's Fish Division says the low water, coupled with a deep snow which shuts out light and slows replenishment of oxygen in the water, could cause serious problems, especially in southwest and north central area lakes.

Over the past four years and 10 months, Michigan's dry spell has cost the state about one full year's supply of rain and snowfall—about 34 inches.

In addition to short water supplies, Kalamazoo and St. Joseph counties were hit by a hot, dry wind at corn pollination time, and this took a heavy toll.

"This is the worst year I've ever had," said Merle Crotser of Mendon in St. Joseph County. "It was total failure. We didn't even get back our fertilizer and work."

Corn Loss Heavy

St. Joseph County suffered about a 75 per cent loss in corn, and about a 50 per cent loss in soybeans, said Dorothy Bothwell, county office manager for the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service.

Allen Bishop of the Kalamazoo County office reported similar losses there.

Bishop said in some of the county's best farming areas, corn yields were down to five to 10 bushels an acre, and some farmers weren't even bothering to harvest the crop.

The yield in Kalamazoo County compares with a statewide average of about 63 bushels an acre of corn for grain — three bushels higher than the 1958-62 average, the Federal-State Crop Reporting Service said.

If rains had come instead of wind, "it would have helped immeasurably," said Russell Engle of Colon, in St. Joseph County.

He estimated that on about 180 acres of corn, he harvested between five and 10 per cent of a normal yield.

Showers In Streaks

Many farmers found evidence of the drought's spottiness.

"There was a little streak south of me which had a little shower at the time of the hot wind," Coomer said, and it did fairly well.

"It seems to be very streaked," added Niles Hagelshaw of Climax, in Kalamazoo County.

Even recently, he said, a rain shower which measured sixtenths of an inch on his farm dropped about two inches on areas 10 miles north of him.

One area near his farm was harvesting 70 to 75 bushels an acre of corn, but in the Schoolcraft area, he said, there were "just no crops."

Hagelshaw had one relatively good corn patch—one sheltered by woods on three sides and by farm buildings on the other. It escaped some of the hot wind.

Walter Horn of Schoolcraft reported that while some areas north and east of his farm had 13 inches of rain for the summer, "we only had three inches."

Young Men Leave

"Some of the young fellows went to town to work," he added, "the fellows that owe money were pretty hard hit."

"Lower prices and the drought on top of that doesn't sit very well," Crotser said.

He said many of the ponds in his area had dried up completely and there had been some complaints about wells.

Michigan had 14 counties declared emergency feed areas and 12 counties declared eligible for emergency loans from the Farmers Home Administration.

Kalamazoo and St. Joseph counties appeared on both lists.

Other counties on the emergency feed area list were Menominee, Houghton, Iron, Ontonagon, Dickinson, Gogebic, Alger, Baraga, Marquette, Antrim, Cheboygan and Emmet.

Others on the emergency loan list were Alcona, Allegan, Alna, Calhoun, Chippewa, Lenawee, Monroe, Presque Isle, Van Buren and Washtenaw.

Farmers were finding, though, that the federal measures would help only those who were in severe financial trouble.

"It doesn't bail us out," Coomer said.

Bishop said feed grain for foundation stock could be purchased for about 94 cents a bushel from the Federal Commodity Credit Corporation under the Emergency Feed Program, but feed for secondary stock cost $1.27—slightly above the open market price.

Despite southwest Michigan's problems, the Federal-State Crop Reporting Service cited improved yields on all crops except dry beans and soy beans, and said "reports on statewide yield don't indicate widespread drought damage."

The reason for generally increasing yields despite the long dry spell may be that farmers are learning to cope with dry conditions better, said Earl Richardson of Michigan State University's Agricultural Information Services.

He credited "better seed, better management and learning when to do things at the right time" with keeping yields up generally.

Off the farm, there were other problems cropping up because of dry conditions.

Tourism and shipping both suffered because of low water levels in the Great Lakes.

In addition, Norman Billings of the Water Resources Commission reported if stream flows continue to slacken, there could be serious problems resulting from inadequate flow to handle waste discharges.

Trouble With Pollution

"Pollution control is geared very much to the flow of streams," he said. "If it falls below a certain level, we're in trouble."

C.C. Crumley, a sanitary engineer with the Health Department, said low water levels are causing some concern in cities which might have to extend their water intake pipes to stay ahead of receding levels.

Pinconning on Saginaw Bay and Marysville on the St. Clair River are among cities apprehensive about further water level drops, he said.

Marysville's problem is that water pipes on shore are at such an elevation that when water levels drop, not as much water moves through intake pipes. The city is considering adjustments, he said.

Small businessmen apparently are not suffering serious damage from low water levels at the present time, the Small Business Administration indicates.

"We haven't heard any particular complaints," said Robert Phillips, regional director at Detroit.

And the dry spell has to end sometime, said Laurence L. Quill, director of Michigan State University's Institute of Water Research.

The Michigan area "should swing around the other way some day and people will be complaining about too much water," he said.

"It's just part of these long range weather cycles that occur," he added. "It will just take time for an adequate water supply to be built up."

He didn't venture to say, though, when the drought might end in Michigan.

Tri-Faith Drive For Overseas Aid Marks Holiday

NEW YORK — America's three major religious faiths during the Thanksgiving season are calling on their more than 100 million members to support the fall united appeal for religious overseas aid, each through his own faith.

The fall emphases of the tri-faith effort include the Protestant "Share Our Substance" appeal to help finance free distribution of foods from America's agricultural abundance to the hungry abroad; the Catholic "Bishops' Thanksgiving Clothing Collection" which seeks millions of pounds of clothing and other relief materials for the needy overseas, and the "United Jewish Appeal" which asks aid for recent refugees and others in acute need abroad.

Carrying the bulk of America's voluntary overseas relief to victims of war, famine and other disasters, the three faiths distribute hundreds of millions of pounds of foods, clothing and medicine to the the hungry, homeless and destitute in virtually every free country in the world.

Birch Society Leader Chided By Eisenhower

NEW YORK (AP) — Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower, received an award for "combating communism" and took the opportunity Thursday night to chide a man who once accused him of links with communism.

The former president described Robert Welch, president of the John Birch Society, as "an irresponsible publicity-seeking person."

Some of Welch's statements, Eisenhower added, should be "taken with a laugh, if not complete disbelief."

Eisenhower was among those receiving the awards from the Order of Lafayette.

Ronald Reagan New GOP Star?

OWOSSO (AP — Organization of a Republican group to back actor Ronald Reagan for the 1968 GOP presidential nomination was announced Thursday.

Robrt M. Smith, chairman of the Shiwassee County Citizens for Goldwater in the 1964 campaign, announced formation of the pro-Reagan group.

Smith, owner of a small chemical company here, said he is chairman. He said Reagan "personifies the Republican philosophy." Smith said the group has rented U.S. Post Office Box 1968 and that it is "already filling with donations."

"Reagan, as those who saw his recent television appearances know, is the man who will be able to point out the real differences between the two American political parties," Smith said.

Reagan campaigned on television in behalf of Sen. Barry Goldwater's presidential candidacy.

Peninsula Potpourri

MENOMINEE — The City Council approved an "ice tree" project for Menominee Beach Park across from the City Hall. The plan calls for installation of a water pipe to spray a tree in the park. The tree is expected to beautify the park area this winter when frozen.

★ ★ ★

MARQUETTE — Collection centers have been set up in most Catholic churches of the Upper Peninsula for the 1964 Thanksgiving clothing drive. The drive is conducted each year in cooperation with the Catholic relief services division of the National Catholic Welfare conference. Msgr. David P. Spelgatti, pastor of St. John's church in Ishpeming, is in charge of the drive.

CRYSTAL FALLS—The Iron County Board of Supervisors has accepted a proposed settlement for the county's claims for apportionment of the assets of the Pinecrest Medicare Facility at Powers. The supervisors agreed to accept a settlement of $78,473 as payment for the county's one-fourth share of the net assets of the facility. The payment will be divided among Delta, Dickinson and Menominee counties, currently joint owners of the unit.

IRON RIVER—An interdenominational council for community betterment is being organized here "to take a positive approach to moral and other problems in Iron County." Preparations for its formation, under the direction of County Prosecutor O. G. Casanova, were made at a meeting of Catholic and Protestant ministers.

MENOMINEE — St. John's school will be razed and an addition built for St. Ann's school in the first major move by the newly consolidated parish schools of Menominee under the lay-religious administrative board. Dr. Francis Reidinger, board chairman and Rt. Rev. Msgr. Robert Chisholm, said the consolidation eliminates duplication of efforts by the parishes.

Tourism Leaders

LANSING — Wesley B. Tebeau of North Muskegon has been elected chairman of the Michigan Tourist Council and William D. Toohey of Dearborn named vice chairman. Both men were appointed to the Council in 1963 by Gov. George Romney. Tebeau, 40, is manager of radio station WMUS in Muskegon. Toohey, 38, is director of public relations for the Henry Ford Museum and Greenfield Village.

Blaney School Needs To Total $2.7 Millions

The proposal to the Michigan Legislature that Blaney Park resort by acquired by the state and converted into a training school for 500 boy dropouts has been supported by a report from the state superintendent of public instruction pointing out the needs and problems of the project.

Dr. Lynn M. Bartlett addressed his department's report on the Blaney project to State Representatives Perras, Toepp, McNeeley, Sharpe, Michalski, Marshall, Anderson, DeMaso, Bursley, E. D. O'Brien, Walton, Mack, Jacobetti, Holmes, Frank A. Mahoney and Hellman.

The legislators have under study a proposal to acquire the resort in Schoolcraft County and convert it to a state institution. The Deparment of Public Instruction report estimates that initial construction and staffing costs of the proposed Blaney Park Residential School For Boys would be $2,706,000.

Staffing requirements would be $831,400 and a vocational-academic school, including recreation facilities would cost $1,874,895. This facility would offer 20 different occupational training areas and the academic building would house 20 classrooms for basic education of a remedial nature.

Training Courses

The occupational training suggested would include auto body repair and painting, gasoline and diesel automotive services, carpentry and woodworking, drafting, electric appliance and television repair, machine shop, welding, cooks-bakers and waiters, clerical practices, farm labor, agricultural mechanics, horticulture and forestry, service station operation.

The DPI report states: "We believe the state has an opportunity to develop a unique educational institution which offers a program geared to meet the individual needs of its students. However, many factors, including the following, must be taken into consideration:

"1. Some students would enter without having completed such basic subjects as reading, mathematics and perhaps others. These basic subjects should be offered with the vocational training.

"2. The program should be flexible since various training programs would run for different periods of time — apt students can learn auto body bumping in 6 months, auto mechanics take 2 years.

"3. Blaney School should operate the year around.

"4. The school would be under jurisdiction of the State Board of Education.

Health Services

"5. The school director should be a well-trained, experienced administrator. Factors of geographial isolation, students in residence, faculty families on the grounds would make the administrative job one of the most difficult in Michigan.

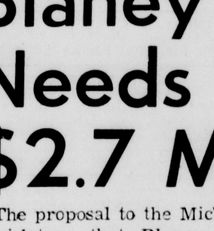
"6. The school would be successful in direct proportion to the quality of the professional staff. The isolated location might make staff more difficult to obtain.

"7. The school should not be considered a correctional institution; should be planned as an educational and training institution and not a program of correction of delinquents. There should be an opportunity for dropouts to obtain occupational training and such academic preparation as they need to become productive workers.

"8. Religious services should be available to students, on grounds or by bus to nearby communities. (Manistique is 23 miles away.)

"9. Some professional services such as medical and dental would be available by contract, possibly with Newberry State Hospital, and a social worker and psychologist should be in residence."

With The Deer Hunters



Sucessful hunters on opening day at the Marenger hunting camp at Ralph were Clinton Miron of Detroit who bagged a spike-horn, "Marsh" Dupuie of Ford River downed a three-pointer and Dick Marenger of Cornell shot a six-point buck. Wally Marenger of Escanaba killed a spike-horned buck on Sunday afternoon and Harold Marenger of Groos shot a three-point buck on Wednesday afternoon.

The rest of the hunting party includes Ed Marenger, Cornell; Fred Marenger and Pat Nadon, Flat Rock; Russel Willyard, Escanaba; Marshall P. Dupuie of Lansing; Don Hernandez of West Allis, Wis., and "head cook" Bill Arbagey of Escanaba.

Hunters at Leo Lancour's camp near Helps have knocked down four bucks thus far this season. Leo, 1407 Lake Shore Drive, nailed a 6-pointer on opening day and Jack LaPine of Bark River matched that feat later the same day. Fred Weissert of Escanaba and Glenn Stade of Gladstone filled their licenses with spikehorns Wednesday and Thursday. Others at the camp are Tom and Terry Lancour, Bill Sullivan and Bob Stade.

Margaret Richards killed a 4-point buck Tuesday. She was hunting on the Garden Peninsula.

Typhoon Leaves Over 100 Dead On Mindanao Island

MANILA (AP) — The Philippine Constabulary estimated that Typhoon Louise left more than 100 persons dead in Surigao del Norte Province, on northeastern Mindanao Island.

More than 100 dead were estimated in one Surigao village on the coast, and many more deaths were feared in remote areas.

A constabulary report from the province said the storm, which had winds up to 156 miles an hour, destroyed all buildings in Surigao town.

From Mindanao the typhoon moved northwest across Negros and Cebu toward the main island of Luzon. But its force dropped rapidly and it was downgraded to a tropical storm, with maximum winds of 59 miles.

Peace Corps Going To Chile

EAST LANSING (AP) — Thirty-eight peace corpsmen leave next week for assignments in Chile after completing the first Michigan State University training program devoted primarily to rural community action.

They will spend two years in community development and rural health work in 24 villages in southern Chile, working closely with the Chilean Department of the Interior, the National Health Service and the Agrarian Reform Corp.

Their training included more than 700 hours of intensive instruction, with more than 250 hours in Spanish language. Topics ranged from the philosophy and techniques of Communism to the construction of pig pens, model homes and chicken coops.

Only Michigan resident among the 38 was Judy Brown, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph P. Brown of Romeo.

Col. Glenn Flies In Jet Trainer, Calls It 'Great'

EL TORO, Calif. (AP) — Col. John H. Glenn Jr. climbed from the jet trainer and grinned happily. "Great," he said. "No trouble at all."

Newsmen were waiting in front of the hangar as Glenn returned from his flight—a milestone in a 23-year career which included combat in two wars and three orbits of the earth in 1962.

It was just a two-hour jaunt in a jet trainer. But it was Glenn's first solo flight since last January, when he announced he was retiring from the Marine Corps to run for the Senate in Ohio.

Then, in February, he fell in his bathroom and injured the labyrinth of his left ear. He suffered dizzy spells which sidetracked both his flying and his political ambitions. He withdrew from the Senate race and wasn't pronounced fit to resume flying until a month ago.

Glenn, 43, the United States' first astronaut, retires Jan. 1.

Kent Dairyman To Head Farm Bureau

Elton R. Smith, 54, Kent County dairyman who has served as vice president of the Michigan Farm Bureau, has been elevated to the presidency.

He replaces Walter Wightman, who has served as president of the 70,000 farm family organization for the past six years. Wightman remains on the board as a "director at large" and will be one of six voting delegates to represent Michigan farmers in policy sessions of the American Farm Bureau Federation soon to be held in Philadelphia.

Other action taken in the traditional "reorganization" session of the Farm Bureau board included naming Dean Pridgeon, Montgomery, vice president; and David Morris, Grand Ledge, third member of the executive committee. Pridgeon is a prominent Branch County swine producer; Morris owns an extensive cattle-feeding operation in Clinton County.

Low Lakes Hurt Iron Ore Trade

The persistent low level of Lake Michigan has so affected lakefront property values in Michigan and caused concern about the long range future of the state's economy as it is hooked to lake movement of bulk materials that a lake level control system will surely become a big issue for Congress.

To date there has been a hanging back from much action on a lake level control plan in hope that natural forces would solve the low water problem, as they have at some periods in the past, but the years stretch out with no remedy and the pressures for action increase.

Unable to wait if it is to retain its lake ore shipping business the Chicago & North Western Railway spent $1.5 million this year deepening the slips at its Escanaba ore dock. But this only solves the low water problem at the north end of the lake. It persists at the south end and makes it more difficult for Upper Michigan iron ore to compete with ores from other areas.

Because Lake Michigan and Lake Huron this year are about 12 inches lower than the other Great Lakes, vessels which load or unload in these lakes suffer a severe tonnage restriction, except for places like Escanaba.

Chicago Hurt

This is especially true at Chicago Harbor, where much U.P. ore goes. In 1962 Chicago was the largest port on the Great Lakes, handling 39 million tons of commerce. (Part of this volume is attributable to Chicago's draining of 3100 cubic feet of Lake Michigan water a second into the Chicago drainage canal to flush its sewage down the Illinois Waterway and for domestic pumpage.)

When the Great Lakes drop one inch a ship loses 60 to 100 tons of cargo capacity. Multiply this by 8, which is the number of inches the level is lower than last year and multiply this result by 40, which is the average number of trips of a boat to the lakehead for ore each season, and the enormous loss in transportation becomes apparent. The estimated loss of the Great Lakes carriers this year is 9.4 million tons of iron ore, coal, grain and stone.

While vessels may load to 30 feet in Escanaba, they can't deliver ore at Cleveland's lakefront below 25 feet at low water datum and if they're going to Old River there they're limited to 21 feet. At Detroit the river front docks take vessels loaded to 27 feet, but in the River Rouge they're limited to 21 feet.

Hardships caused by the low water in Lake Michigan and Lake Huron involves loss of time as well as loss of tonnage. Lack of sufficient water in the lower St. Mary's River approaches to the Sault Canal reduces the depth to which the Davis and Sabin locks can be filled. Many ships which would ordinarily use one of these locks downbound are unable to do so and must wait their turn at the deeper MacArthur Lock, which jams traffic there causing delays reported up to 9 hours.

The Lake Carriers Association reports its vessel owning members could lose as much as $13 million in the ore trade alone this season. The total economic loss to the Great Lakes area is estimated at $100 million.

The vessel owners were told by the U.S. Corps of Engineers that a Great Lakes study nearing completion may become the basis for eventual establishment of controls against extreme high and low lake levels.

Controls Feasible

From an engineer's view, the outflows of Lakes Michigan and Huron could be regulated by control works. So could the outflow from Lake Erie and the Army Engineers say that Erie controls may be economically justified, but that efforts to develop economic justification for regulating Lakes Huron and Michigan have not been successful to date.

U. S. Senator Philip A. Hart of Michigan thinks that long range solution of low levels is in diversion of additional water into the Great Lakes and he has urged U.S. - Canadian joint studies of Great Lakes basin problems.

The mere restoration of normal Great Lakes water levels wouldn't be enough to solve the problems of the lake iron ore trade in its competition with world sources; the levels would have to be raised. Robert W. Taber, of Cleveland Cliffs Iron Co., said "The water depth in the St. Mary's, St. Clair and Detroit rivers must be increased to at least 35 feet so that large, existing ships may load to full draft and new ships can be built with drafts of 35 or more feet to compete on equal terms with East Coast ports."
